Snow and Rain Bring 1.22 of Moisture Here

Moisture falling in Canyon between Friday night and Wednesday morning totaled 1.22 inches.

Rain and snow started to fall Friday night. By morning the ground was well covered. Moisture continued to fall throughout the day, resulting in a total of .42 of an inch.

Sunday was cool, but the temperature did not drop to the freezing point.

Rain started falling again Monday morning, with a total of .73 of an inch moisture by Tuesday morning. Again the temperature did not sag to the freezing point.

Snow started falling again Tuesday night, after clouds had blotted out the sun all day Tuesday. The total moisture from the snow of Tuesday night amounted to .07 of an inch, bringing the total to 1.22 inches for the period from Friday night to Wednesday morning. The temperature dropped to 29 degrees Wednesday morning. Whether this freezing weather will do damage to the fruit crop is not yet evident.

Wheat farmers are elated over the fine moisture. Every drop of moisture from the snow and rains went into the ground. Heavy rains fell at planting time in October, followed by normal moisture in November, December and January. Since the first of the year there has been 2.07 inches of moisture, putting the wheat in excellent condition.

Victim of Glazier Storm Was Buried Here on Monday

Funeral services for Troy Leslie Brock, 37 years old, killed in the Glazier tornado, were conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Baptist church, with Dr. Roy L. Johnson, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Brock and daughter, Myrtle Jeanette McDaniel and son, Jimmie McDaniel, are in critical condition in the Canadian hospital, also victims of the tornado which destroyed the house in which they were living.

Mr. Brock was water foreman for the Bell and Braden Construction Company of Amarillo and was working on a road project near Glazier. He was a veteran of World War II, having served with the infantry in the Pacific Theater. He formerly lived in Canyon, and was employed with D. E. Covington, also a former resident of this city, at Glazier.

He was born Sept. 9, 1909, in Bryson, Texas, and was a member of the Primitive Baptist church.

Telephone Strike Is Still On, But Local Service Does Well

In spite of the national telephone strike, service in Canyon is doing very well. All of the non-union workers of the local plant are giving the people as good service as possible. However, local citizens are urged not to use the phones except strictly on business.

Long distance calls are on an emergency basis.

A statement on wages is published in this issue of the News by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

County Sets a New Record in Car Licenses

Randall county has set a new high record in the registration of motor vehicles which will use the highways. There has been a total of 3,738 vehicles registered up to the close of the April 1st period, according to M. E. Cantrell, tax collector. This is a considerable increase over the registration up to April 1, 1946.

Cash collected up to April 1 was $79,668.10. The total collections for the past year amounted to $86,000. With the splendid wheat prospects, the amount of cash collected will be greatly increased due to the number of trucks which will be registered by harvest time.

The county keeps all of the first $50,000 for the road and bridge fund; and one-half of all over this amount.

Randall county collected only $30,000 in 1938 from the sale of motor vehicle plates, and this amount has been increased year by year.

The following are the vehicles registered:

- Automobiles, 2603.
- Commercial trucks, 334.
- Farm trucks, 538.
- Buses, 11.
- Motorcycles, 10.
- Truck tractors, 83.
- Trailers, 134.
- Dealer plates, 25.

"All friends are invited to hear this young man who has proven to be so popular with college youth over the South, and even in foreign lands where he has travelled rather widely. His summer plans include a trip to England and the European continent," Dr. Johnson said.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Campfield and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bonds went to Hale Center Friday to attend the Senior Class play. Miss Avis Campfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Campfield, who teaches at Hale Center, was one of the sponsors and directors of the play.

Survey Shows a Large Number of Women Workers

A recent partial survey of Canyon shows that 292 women are employed in 43 different occupations.

The survey was made under the direction of Miss Bertie May Williams with Miss Albessa Stephenson, Miss Wilma Cupell and Mrs. T. V. Reeves assisting. This was part of a study project of the American Association of University Women.

It was found that Canyon has 36 women employed as sales ladies; 29 are secretaries, stenographers, and bookkeepers; 16 are waitresses; 14 work in cleaning shops; 14 are employed in laundries, 11 are nurses, 10 are telephone operators; 7 are beauty operators, 7 are leather workers.

Seven women work as owner-managers in drug stores, tourist courts, beauty shops, laundries, boarding houses, and gift shops.

Five women are seamstresses; 4 are cashiers; 3 are fountain workers; 2 work in the public library.

There are 2 women working in abstract offices and 2 more are cooks. One is a janitress.

The county treasurer, the county home demonstration agent, a state welfare worker, a laboratory technician, a physician, all are women. One woman music teacher devotes full time to her private pupils.

Thirty-two women are employed by the Canyon Public Schools, 1 is a principal; 1 a librarian; 5 are lunch room workers; and 25 are teachers.

At West Texas State College 43 women are teachers and librarians; 6 are office workers; 1 is a dietitian; 6 are dormitory supervisors; there is 1 nurse; three are housekeepers; and 23 cooks and assistants; there is 1 janitress.

Miss Williams explains that the figures of this survey do not include a number of part-time workers.

The committee found the people of Canyon much interested in the survey and received full cooperation in assembling the information. A copy of the survey was sent to the National Convention of the American Association of University Women, which is meeting in Dallas this week.

Mrs. Tryon, who is editor of the A. A. U. W. Journal, will be the guest of the Amarillo and Pampa chapters later in the week. She is attending the National Convention this week which is in session at Dallas and Fort Worth. Miss Ruth Lowes and Miss Novella Goodman, of this city, are also attending the convention.

Foster Van Zandt and son, Joe Carroll, were guests Sunday in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Burney Slack and Mr. and Mrs. Worth Jennings. Mr. Van Zandt, a nephew of Mrs. Jennings, is a former resident of this city, but now makes his home in Colorado. His son resides in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Wells Leib of Springfield, Ill., are guests this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes Smith. Mrs. Leib is a sister of Mrs. Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Leib have also been in Plainview where they visited with her father, George Ludeman.

Mrs. R. A. Hodges of Tulsa is well enough to be at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Hodges, after receiving medical treatment at Neblett hospital the first of the week. Mrs. Hodges is a sister of Mrs. T. S. Stevenson.

Gary Thurmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Thurmon of this city, underwent a tonsillectomy in the Neblett hospital one day this week, and is reported to be recovering satisfactorily.

Dr. Roy L. Johnson, pastor of the Baptist church, W. H. Harden and John L. Hammond went to Lubbock Tuesday to attend a Baptist Board meeting.

Snakes Killed After Prairie Dog Poisoning

Ed Huseman and Cecil Bryant literally walked into a "den of snakes" one day last week when they went to a prairie dog town on the Walter Graham place to check on the results of poison which they had put out to kill the prairie dogs.

They encountered and killed sixteen rattlesnakes in about a half hour, and returned the next day to kill four more. A third man, Cap Coconougher, killed two.

It was thought that the snakes had crawled out into the warm sunshine to bring to an end their winter's hibernation, since they were covered with mud and soil.

Softball to Furnish Summer Recreation

Plans are now underway for a softball league in Canyon during the summer. Several teams have been organized already and more are in prospect. Anyone wishing to sponsor a team or who wants to play should contact G. C. Crosby, who is handling the organization of the league.

If present plans are carried out, lights will be arranged and games will be played at night. A regular schedule is to be worked out and it is necessary that all teams that wish to play have their entry in as soon as possible. It is hoped that the league will be organized and ready to begin play by May 1st.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Max H. Guana to Julia Arizola, April 14.

Mrs. J. N. Petterson of Higgins, mother of Mrs. Milton Morris, was brought to Neblett hospital to receive medical attention after receiving injuries in the recent tornado at her home.

Methodist Raising Funds to Rebuild Church at Higgins

Members of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church are raising funds to help rebuild the Methodist Church at Higgins which was destroyed in the tornado last Wednesday. A contribution of $352 was taken in the Canyon Methodist Church Sunday, and this amount will be increased.

Rev. W. B. Hicks is pastor of the church. Mrs. Hicks is the daughter of John Knight of this city and is well known here. The family came through the storm without injury, but the church was destroyed and the parsonage was badly wrecked.

A daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Hicks has been attending West Texas State, but went home in order to assist with the work of rebuilding the devastated area.

Rev. Hicks was pastor at Crowell when that town was hit by a tornado several years ago.

Red Cross Has Gathered Much For Sufferers

People of Canyon and Randall County have again shown themselves to be good neighbors, in offering assistance and in contributions of food, clothing and funds to those who were so unfortunate as to lose all they owned in the tornado district, according to a report from the local Red Cross office.

Many rooms were offered in Canyon to house the homeless, and last Friday, students and employees of West Texas State College sent a truck loaded with supplies to be distributed in the disaster area.

A second truck load of food and clothing given by the people of this town and county was sorted and packed in boxes by the Junior Red Cross under the direction of Mrs. Cecil Briggs, Home Service Secretary, Roscoe Davis, Disaster Chairman, and Delbert Lowes, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Joe Currie will haul these supplies to Amarillo as soon as they are needed.

Mrs. Tom Knighton, Red Cross Chapter Chairman, took a cash donation from the Randall County Chapter to Amarillo Thursday morning to be sent and used as needed. A large cash donation is now being raised by the town and county to be added to the Tornado Fund and used in the rebuilding of homes for the storm victims.

Wilkinsons Have Sold Store Here

Worst Tornado In History Swept North Plains Wednesday; Glazier Wiped Out and Higgins Destroyed

Council of Church Women Will Meet All-Day Tuesday

Canyon Council of Church Women will meet Tuesday, April 29, at the Christian Church. The program, which will begin at 11 o'clock, will include worship, and hymns by the all-church choir.

A discussion of "Personal Faith and Experience," will be given by Mrs. H. A. Brown, of the Presbyterian church. This is to be followed by a business session with Mrs. W. M. Higdon, president, in charge.

During the noon hour, a covered dish fellowship luncheon will be held in the church dining room.

Rt. Rev. George Henry Quarterman, Bishop of the Missionary District of North Texas Episcopal Churches, will address the group in the afternoon, using as his subject, "Fellowship." Special music will be provided by the choir, and Miss Eula Potter of the Baptist Bible Chair, at West Texas State, will discuss, "The Bible in Life."

"This meeting combines the May Day Fellowship program with the regular Fifth Tuesday meeting of the Council," Mrs. Higdon explained, "and it provides an opportunity for women of all the churches to become acquainted and to have fellowship with each other."

All women of the town are invited to attend, and a nursery will be provided for the children.

Discussion of Needs of Canyon Continue at Rotary Luncheon

Dr. Ples Harper continued the needs of Canyon at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday. The discussion was started two weeks ago when Ray Campbell was the leader.

George Cox stated that it takes a lot of brawn and a little money to make a home beautiful. If all citizens would plant flowers and shrubs there would be less depredation. We have the water, and all that is needed is the will to accomplish.

Commissioner George Farlow stated that the city's trucks could help the town cleaner by the co-operation of citizens in burning all trash that should be burned. Alleys cannot be blocked by piling trees in the alleys, which should be burned.

Arch Hunsley complained that people were dumping trash on the country roads north of town and that this trash is blowing over on his place. 5,000 cars pass over Highway 87 every 24 hours. It leaves a bad impression on tourists who see junk yards in towns and trash along the edge of the towns.

D. A. Shirley complimented the city because of the speed in removing trash, and stated that citizens could help by burning their trash promptly.

J. R. Sharp stated that he had seen clean up days, and then the citizens allowed the towns to accumulate rubbish. He would like to see a continuous clean up campaign, especially of vacant lots.

J. W. Shook asked if there was some way to keep people from piling trash on the other side of their alley, rather than keeping it on their own side.

Commissioner S. H. Condon stated that low city taxes do not make it possible to employ enough men, and the men whom the city employs are not paid a sufficiently high salary.

J. D. Barker called attention to the unsightly sign boards which are allowed in Canyon. These big signs make Canyon look like a country town.

More attention is needed for the paving, and Mr. Farlow stated that as the water lines and sewer extensions are put in that the city intends doing a lot of patching of the paving.

F. E. Savage discussed the school situation. If Randall county is to follow the lead of Deaf Smith and Swisher counties in consolidation, there must first be adequate school houses. There is need of at least $750,000 for a new school building for such a consolidation.

Rev. Joe Findley called attention to the war slogan: "Is this trip necessary," and applied it to the large number of dogs in Canyon. "Is this dog necessary" should be asked regarding the dogs which roam the streets.

Mr. Harper closed the program by stating: Let every citizen be impressed with the fact that THIS IS OUR TOWN. Each citizen must have a personal pride and responsibility in the development and beauty of the town.

Visitors were: Arnold Attebury, Lahroy White, Cecil Hunter, Hubert

The people of Canyon and Randall county have responded to the needs of the people on the North Plains who lost their homes in the tornado last week. It has been impossible to get an accurate check on the contributions from this county because of the various means taken to help the sufferers of the storm.

The Randall County Red Cross Chapter sent $300 immediately after the storm. Cash had been received at the City Hall this morning which amounted to $866.85. The Baptist Church took a collection Sunday for the storm victims. Another collection was taken at the Methodist Church to assist in rebuilding the Methodist Church at Higgins.

Scores of Randall county citizens have made direct contributions to the Amarillo Globe-News relief fund. If it were possible to add all of the contributions from the people of the county together, the total would approximate $2,000.

Citizens who have not made contributions are urged to go to the City Hall at once and leave their checks. The account will be forwarded to the relief committee which has been appointed by Governor Jester. More than $100,000 has been raised for the Globe-News Fund, but this fund will not cover the loss which was sustained in the tornado.

The storm hit the edge of White Deer Wednesday evening. It dipped down on Glazier, completely wiping out this village, and then on to Higgins where hardly a building in a town of 800 population was left standing. Woodward, Okla., was 45% destroyed.

Experienced newspaper men who covered this storm state that it was one of the worst storm disasters in the history of the nation. More than 140 persons lost their lives, and more than a thousand were injured. Thousands of citizens of Texas and Oklahoma were left homeless.

The Red Cross, Salvation Army and other relief agencies rushed to the aid of the distressed. Clothing and food were contributed from every town in this area. Appeals were made for state and federal agencies to rush relief to the sufferers. Governor Jester flew from Austin Friday and viewed the terrible destruction. He has placed available all of the facilities of the state to assist the people.

Draft Office To Officially End on the 7th May

Mrs. Tommy Prichard, clerk of the Selective Service board in Randall county, has received notice of final termination of her work on May 7.

By that time all records will have been shipped to State Headquarters at Austin for future use of the War Department.

There is no order as yet for the disposition of the furniture and fixtures of the office.

Mrs. Prichard has been clerk of the local board since it was organized in 1940.

Rev. Joe Findley Is Made Treasurer of Cancer Fund

Rev. Hubert Thomson, county campaign manager of the Cancer Control drive, has named Rev. Joe Findley as treasurer of the fund.

Randall county is asked to contribute $310.04 for the national campaign to combat cancer. Those wishing to make contributions should see either Mr. Thomson or Mr. Findley.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Prichard and Harold Jay and Mrs. A. L. Huff of Amarillo, returned Sunday from a short vacation in the Rio Grande Valley. While away they visited with their sister, Mrs. Joe P. Goode and family of San Benito and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wagner, Dr. and Mrs. O. B. Vaughan and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Henson of Robstown. They also spent some time in Brownsville, Matamoros and Corpus Christi.

Ezra Bagwell of this city was called to Amarillo Sunday because of the death of his brother, William Leroy Bagwell, brakeman for the Santa Fe, who was killed in the train wreck near Higgins.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Prichard and son of Canadian are here visiting relatives and friends.

Dowell, Emil F. Myers, Bob Foster, Arch Hunsley, C. F. Milner, all of Amarillo; Rev. W. F. Wimpey of Waco; Hugh P. Jones of Jenkin-town, Pa.; Rev. Joe Findley of Canyon.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

One phase of the Russian problem is a puzzle to a great many people. Ex-soldiers and others who had a chance to mingle with the typical Russian "common man" during the war almost invariably report that he was friendly, curious about the United States and other nations he had not seen, sick to death of war and talk of more war, and eager to live at peace in a friendly world. On the other hand, the ruling class in Russia exhibits none of these characteristics. The average Soviet official is openly contemptuous of all countries save his own, is about as non-cooperative as they come, and certainly is not averse to considering the possibility of World War III.

This difference in attitudes between the Russian masses and the Russian leaders is not so curious as it may seem at first glance. First of all, ninety-odd per cent of the Russian people have nothing whatsoever to say about their government and its foreign policy, and their desires are never considered in the formulation of Soviet plans. Secondly, it is a great mistake to think of the Soviet Union as a land populated by some 160,000,000 Communists. The truth is that only a very small proportion of the Russian people belong to the Communist party—or would be permitted to join the party if they wished to. The Communist party rules Russia—but it enrolls in its ranks only those citizens who have abilities and energies which it can use to its advantage. It is an elite class, and as such has no resemblance to a political party as we know it in the United States. Its members receive many personal privileges and prerogatives which the ordinary Russian can never hope to attain. Thus, it is possible to draw an organizational parallel between the Communist party and Hitler's old Nazi group. There is one great difference, however. Hitler's backers consisted largely of fanatics who had great passion but little practical ability. The Communists are interested only in obtaining men and women, and potential members are rigorously examined and investigated.

At the top of the Communist party is a series of bureaus which do the actual work of governing. At the very top is the Politburo, where the real seat of power lies. No one, outside of a few high men in Soviet councils even knows the exact membership of this remarkable organization. It is self-perpetuating, and its powers are literally unlimited. The names of some of the most important members are virtually unknown in this country. They are rarely mentioned in the Soviet press, except in connection with the discharge of their official duties.

These are the men—and they probably number only about fifteen—who decide Russian policy in all its phases. Stalin, of course, is the head of the group, with Molotov second. Many Russians authorities feel that Molotov will be Stalin's successor. But, whether he is or not, the Politburo will remain in control.

It can be stated categorically that the Russian people know almost nothing about what is going on in the rest of the world. The Soviet press is, and is meant to be, a governmental instrument. It consists of a few papers of enormous circulation. All articles of any importance are "inspired"—that is, the party leadership tells the writers just what attitude they will take. A great deal of space is given to alleged news from the United States, and practically all of it is directly or indirectly unfavorable. Special emphasis is placed on U. S. murders, riots, strikes, and internal disorders. Photos of such happenings are featured. The whole idea is to give the Russian people the idea that the United States is an embattled country, with a low standard of living, and with a weak and vacillating government which may collapse at any time and be replaced by a system akin to Communism. Editorial comment to this effect of ten buttresses the "news" stories.

This gives an idea of the tremendous difficulties in the way of appealing to the good will of the Russian people in working out world problems. No one really knows whether the typical Russian wants to extend the Communist sphere of influence, or use German slave labor, or engage in an atom bomb and armament race with us. Further, it doesn't make any difference what he wants. All that matters, from the practical point of view, is what is in the minds of the handful of men of the Politburo.

The current discussion of Communist activities in this country has produced some rumblings in the Soviet press, but, as yet, no major blasts. A great unanswered question is just how much Soviet undercover work is undertaken here. The revelations of a year ago in Canada, where it was officially confirmed that some prominent Canadians, including a member of parliament, had been working directly for the Russians, were disturbing. This country certainly offers a far more fertile field for Russian intelligence than does Canada. That fact may have a considerable future bearing on U. S.-Soviet relations.

NO STEPCHILD

A short while ago, the House and Senate of the State of Indiana adopted one of the most remarkable resolutions ever proposed before a legislative body. It was a dramatic reaffirmation of those principles of local independence and local responsibility that have been so largely forgotten under a philosophy which would have the Federal government do everything—and pay for anything.

Here, in part, is what the resolution said: "Indiana needs no guardian and intends to have none. We Hoosiers—like the people of our sister states—were fooled for quite a spell with the magician's trick that a dollar taxed out of our pockets and sent to Washington will be bigger when it comes back to us."

"We have taken a good look at said dollar.

"We find that it lost weight in its journey to Washington and back. The political brokerage of the bureaucrats has been deducted. We have decided that there is no such thing as Federal aid. We know that there is no wealth to tax that is not already within the boundaries of the 48 states.

"So we proposed henceforth to tax ourselves and take care of ourselves. We are fed up with subsidies, doles and paternalism. We are no one's stepchild. We have grown up. We serve notice that we will resist Washington, D. C. adopting us."

Here is the unanswerable case against super-government. Here is the final argument against having the Federal bureaucracy rake our parks, construct our swimming pools, pay our old-age pensions, lend us money, and do all the rest of the things it has been doing. Every nickel that is spent must come out of our pockets—and added to it must be the immense cost of political administration and spoils-taking. The Indiana legislature has simply restated, in plain words, the doctrine on which this nation was built. And it is the only doctrine that can keep this nation strong and free in the years to come.

A SORRY BARGAIN

Proponents of Federal compulsory sickness insurance, as projected by the pending Wagner-Murray-Dingell Bill, use as one of their principal arguments the fact that some 30 nations have comparable plans in effect, some of them of long duration. But, as A. M. Simons has pointed out in the Christian Science Monitor, "No favorable evidence drawn from the working of such systems is ever presented. No unprejudiced visitor returns from any of these systems with praise for its operations, or vital statistics of its accomplishments in improving the health of the people insured."

A great many experts have studied the operation of compulsory sickness insurance abroad, notably in

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

THOMAS JEFFERSON
APRIL 13, 1743—JULY 4, 1826

"The God Who gave us Life gave us Liberty at the same time."

THIRD PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, AUTHOR OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE, FIRST AMERICAN STATESMAN TO MAKE STATE AID TO EDUCATION A FUNDAMENTAL TENET OF A DEMOCRATIC PEOPLE, FOUNDER OF THE UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA, IN HIS DAY A FAMED DIPLOMAT, ARCHITECT, METEOROLOGIST AND HORTICULTURIST—THOMAS JEFFERSON IS REVERED BY ALL FREEDOM-LOVING PEOPLE AS ONE OF THE GREATEST APOSTLES OF DEMOCRACY WHO EVER LIVED.

England. Practically all of them have reported that doctors are overworked and are unable to give the ordinary patient the degree of individual attention he should have. And some English authorities have themselves come up with unfavorable testimony. For example, the Regional Medical Officer of the Department of Health for Scotland has observed that it was felt that England's National Insurance Act would "have some effect not only in diminishing the amount and duration of disabling illness, but would prove to be an important preventative element." Instead, he found that both the number of cases of illness and their average duration had increased.

Compulsory government health insurance, in short, would cost our tax-burdened people four to six billion dollars a year—and in return for that we would get a system of bureaucratized medicine which has not been successful anywhere it has been tried. That would be a sorry bargain indeed.

NO PLACE FOR THE NOVICE

More small businesses are going under, reports the Wall Street Journal. And, as always, a great part of these failures are in the field of retail trade.

It is an unfortunate fact that too many persons feel they can successfully operate a store—and this confidence is frequently misplaced. People set themselves in the grocery business or the dry goods business or some other form of retail business with little or no experience, with inadequate financing, and with no knowledge of the ticklish techniques of profitably buying and selling goods and attracting finicky consumers. And, all too often, economic tragedy swiftly follows.

Retail trade is one of the most competitive of all enterprises. The tens of thousands of chains and independents in the field are engaged in a continuous tussle for trade. Today, as more goods become available, competition is far more intense than it was during the war and the first postwar year, when supplies are limited and rigidly standardized in both quality and price. The consumer is shopping warily, and high prices make it necessary for millions to count their is going all out to serve the consumer, is no place for the novice.

TOO CLOSE FOR COMFORT

Curbing an expanding bureaucratic activity of government is akin to stemming the inexorable push of a molten flow of lava. A decade ago Federal power projects were started to be "yardsticks" to measure the rates of the private electric industry. To many people these yardsticks seemed reasonable. But gradually the tax-subsidized yardstick became a club. In large sections of the country it has been used to beat out of existence the production and distribution of electric energy by the taxpaying, publicly regulated, private electric industry. This was first true of the Tennessee Valley Authority. It is now becoming true of Northwest and Southwest government projects. The momentum of expanding Federal authority in Oregon and Washington for example, has grown to the point where the private companies, since they have been unable to go ahead with private power development for many years in the face of tax-exempt Federal competition, have been compelled to accept large scale expansion of government generating facilities. In other words, the scales have been tipped. The government entered a business needlessly, and crippled the capacity of an industry to keep abreast of demand. It is now well on the way to establishing a monopoly for which it must pour out tens of millions in tax dollars collected from all the people to fill in a gap in private industry created by government itself. It has been a wasteful, dangerous experience.

Every venture in the direction of totalitarian government begins with the domination of a nation's basic industries and once started becomes increasingly difficult to stop.

Those naive souls who claim it can't happen here will do well to watch the growing Federal power monopoly. The parallel between it and the development of socialized government in other parts of the world is too close for comfort.

One thing the advent of spring taught people—you can't be sure winter is over till summer comes.

Foster-Olson Vows Are Read

In an impressive candlelight ceremony Sunday afternoon, nuptial vows were exchanged by Martha Lee Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Foster of this city, and Donald M. Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Olson, who reside near Canyon.

Rev. Robert W. Jones, pastor of the Presbyterian church, read the double ring service at 2 o'clock in the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. R. W. Foster, before a background fashioned of candelabra bearing lighted cathedral tapers, and wedding baskets of pink and white gladioli.

While the guests assembled, Miss Bob Allen Deluge of Amarillo sang, "I Love You Truly," Carrie Jacob Bond, and "Because" by D'Hardelot. She was accompanied by Mrs. Lee Foster, aunt of the bride, at the piano. Mrs. Foster also played, "Clair de Lune," Debussy, and the "Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin," by Wagner, for the professional. Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was the recessional. During the ceremony, she played softly, "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

Misses Bobbye and Sally Foster, sister and cousin of the bride, lighted the tapers preceding the ceremony. Maid of honor was Miss Tommie Ford of this city. She wore a suit of brown and white, and her corsage was of red carnations.

Virgil Kelly of Lockney served the bridegroom as best man, and Misses Mary Sue Foster and Cloe Ann Black were ushers.

Entering on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, the bride was attired in a suit of gray with pink blouse, and black accessories. Her bouquet was of gardenias and white sweet peas atop a small white Bible which had been borrowed from Mrs. Virginia Kaufman of California, a school friend of the bride. Concealed in the bride's dal bouquet was a lace handkerchief which was over one hundred years old, and had belonged to the bride's paternal grandmother. The bride's mother also carried the handkerchief at her wedding. To complete her costume, the bride wore a strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Foster, mother of the bride, wore a brown suit with white blouse and a corsage of white gardenias, and Mrs. Olson, the bridegroom's mother, was attired in gray, and she wore a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for the bridal party and guests in the dining room of the home. The table, covered with a cloth of white linen was centered with a floral arrangement of sweet peas and snapdragons, in pink and white, the bride's chosen colors. On either side were tall white tapers in crystal holders.

The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was cut by the bride, assisted by the bridegroom.

Mrs. Emil Olson presided at the silver tea service, assisted by Mrs. Paul Rogers, aunt of the bride. Miss Claudine Foster served the cake with pink and white mints and nuts. The napkins were inscribed "Martha and Donald." Mrs. Glenn Olson was seated at the guest register.

The couple left immediately after the reception for a wedding trip to Florida.

Mrs. Olson before her marriage was enrolled as a student at West Texas State. She is also a graduate of Canyon high school.

The bridegroom attended Texas A. & M., College Station, for three years, and served with the armed forces. He received his discharge in 1946 with the rank of captain.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson will be at home after May 1, three and one-half miles north of Canyon.

Guests attending the wedding and reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Olson, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. A New Zealand market for British oil is assured with establishment of a Government oil corporation in New Zealand. A 49 per cent interest in the distributing company is to be held by Anglo-Iranian Oil. New port and storage facilities will supply the Royal Navy in the Far East. The company also will compete as a distributor with private U. S. companies in the area. The idea is to save dollars now spent for oil.

Yes sir, I saw the sea monster all right. The part above the surface was about 30 feet long. We figured it must be a good 60 feet or more. Why, one woman up there in Lake Washington thought it was a submarine.—Ray Lichtenberger, Seattle boat house owner.

Token shipments of U. S. goods to Britain are to be resumed after a month's suspension. American companies that did business with Britain before the war and that were forbidden to make shipments during the war now are allowed to send up to 20 per cent of the yearly value of prewar shipments. Some 184 commodities are on the approved list. Shipments must be certified by the U. S. Commerce Department.

Russian troops in the Balkan countries are reported to be deserting by the hundreds, apparently in protest against orders sending them home to the Soviet Union. Recently many demobilization orders reaching occupied countries have been answered promptly by wholesale desertions, sometimes involving entire companies.

Gas powered locomotives are to be tried out in Russia. In efforts to get along without coal, Japanese railways already have used natural gas successfully. Now, Soviet railways are building special gas tenders and gas pipe lines to service converted engines.

All Colombian airfields are to be taken over by the Government. A $17,000,000 corporation has been set up to run the nationalized fields. New airports will be built and old fields will be enlarged. The program is to be financed by a small tax on air rates. First job will be the extension of Barranquilla, Cali and Medellin airports.

U. S. aid for Brazilian railways and mines now totals $26,500,000. Latest credit from the Export-Import Bank is for $7,500,000. This loan was granted on condition that the Brazilian Government make a loan of $12,000,000 for the same purpose. The U. S. credits are extended for the purchase of U. S. equipment and services.

A pearl industry in Australia is to be set up by the Commonwealth Government. Prewar pearl fisheries were dominated by the Japanese. Veterans and immigrant laborers are to man the new fishing industry in Northern Australia. A marketing organization also is to be established under Government supervision.

Australian controls over lead are to be continued. The Commonwealth Government will maintain price and export regulations in order to supply Britain and to export the mineral to the U. S. in return for critically needed dollars. Lead has been hoarded by speculators in Australia in the hope that controls would be lifted.

The various arguments that President Truman's new foreign policy leads toward war, or leads toward franker understanding with Russia, or leads somewhere else just don't get to the point. What really distinguishes this new U. S. foreign policy is that it leads.

The average man made business tastes; makes the cigarettes he wants; carries him where he wants to go; carries his burden; and yet the recipient of all these gifts fights the giver, big business, at every turn. . . . The service of big business is not possible from a bureaucratic source.—A. W. Robertson, Westinghouse Electric Corp.

WAGES AND THE TELEPHONE STRIKE

Because wages are at issue in the telephone strike, let's take a look at what operators and plant craftsmen here are now getting. Almost all telephone people are in these groups.

The basic work period is a five-day, 40-hour week. Scheduled employees are paid overtime for time worked over eight hours a day, premium time for Sunday and holiday work, and added money for evening and night work.

OPERATORS

A girl just out of high school, with no previous experience, starts at the beginner's rate of $26 a week. But if she works after 9 p. m., she gets $27.50 a week, and if that week includes Sunday work, she gets $30.10.

The beginning operator gets a raise in pay every six months for the first year. An operator with 12 month's experience, for example, gets $28 for a normal 40-hour week. If it includes evenings and Sunday, she earns $32.30.

Periodic increases bring the operator to the top rate of $34 a week. If she works evenings and Sundays, her weekly earnings are $38.90.

But the union wants to increase the beginner's rate of pay from $26 to $41—up $15 a week. Also, they would increase the top wages from $34 to $51. That is an increase of $17 a week.

PLANT CRAFTSMEN

Linemen and installers, starting in right out of school with no experience, begin at $28 for a basic five-day week. In two years they are earning $35.50 a week.

Periodic increases raise this basic rate to a top of $56 a week. Exchange repairmen—the men who take care of repairing the equipment in your office or home—reach a top rate of $58. Overtime and other extra pay during the past year increased the wages of most linemen, installers, and exchange repairmen by about 10 per cent.

The union asks that the beginning wage rates of these Plant workers be raised from $28 to $43—up $15 a week. The union would also increase the $56 top wage to $78, and the $58 top to $78. Those would be increases of $20 and $22 a week.

We believe most people will agree that present wages are good. The company believes that no increases are justified at this time.

The way to resolve these differences of opinion and settle the strike is to arbitrate the wage issue. That would be fair to our employees, to telephone users, and to the company.

Nearly three weeks ago the company proposed that Governor Jester and the governors of the other four states in which we operate appoint a panel of five impartial citizens—men with a knowledge of conditions in this area—to arbitrate the wage issue. The company enlarged its offer to include not only basic wages but such other demands as length of time for employees to reach top wage rates and wage differentials between different communities.

The company urges union officials to reconsider the offer of arbitration. It is the fair way to settle the strike, restore full telephone service to the public, and get the telephone wage issue decided equitably.

German machine tools are to be demonstrated by the U. S. Government at the Frankford Arsenal in Philadelphia during April. Various types of grinding, rolling and milling machines, measuring and testing apparatus and plastics processing equipment will be displayed and operated. One wartime development to be shown is a precision grinding machine with an optical system that enables the operator to check his work against the engineer's design as he grinds.

British Empire wool is being disposed of faster than expected. More than half of a $656,000,000 stock of wool accumulated during the war by the United Kingdom, South Africa and Australia already has been sold, chiefly to the U. S. Originally it was planned to sell this over a 12-year period. Now it looks as if all will be sold before the end of 1948.

Witness Writes About Wreckage

By Jack Armstrong

The full extent of the disaster that struck the Panhandle last week is staggering. Only an eye witness can fully realize the strength of the blast that hit Glazier, Higgins and Woodward.

Approaching the devastated area from Amarillo one notices many evidences of the storm from Pampa onward, but the first sight of Glazier will stun the casual observer. Where once the town of Glazier stood there is nothing but a few desolate tree stumps.

The complete absence of any structure is accentuated by the flatness of the surrounding plains. The most striking thing about Glazier is the absence of wreckage and debris.

Town Razed
There is nothing left. Tree stumps protrude a few inches from the ground giving an eerie effect to the townscape.

As I walked through the streets of Glazier I was startled to see a chicken sitting on the curb clucking disconsolately—it was completely featherless.

I spent an hour in Glazier and proceeded to Higgins expecting the worst. Only official cars were being allowed to enter Higgins early Friday morning. Bodies were still being removed from the ruins.

Not ten inhabitable houses remained in the town. Water was unobtainable. Well-meaning people pouring in from other towns contributed to a general sense of confusion.

Homeless

Dazed families stood in futile silence gazing at the smoldering ruins of their homes. Business men poked among the ruins of their businesses hunting for papers and records.

At the high school long lines of people were standing waiting to look for names of friends and relatives on the tentative casualty lists.

Shattuck was relatively undamaged but Woodward was severely hit. The Oklahomans were apparently better organized than the Texans because as I drove through the town, I noticed that reconstruction was well underway.

Over 100 square blocks had been demolished. The people of Woodward have built a tent city in their damaged area. The more fortunate people of Woodward whose homes were undamaged or at least left inhabitable are placing their homes at the disposal of the city officials.

Helpful Spirit

Peculiar to the entire area of disaster was a spirit of brotherhood that I did not believe could exist. I saw one of the wealthiest men of Woodward digging in the wreckage of an old ugly Indian's shack side by side with the old Indian.

The tornado swept along a path approximately 150 miles long destroying millions of dollars worth of property and mutilating human beings who, only a few hours before, had been preparing for bed. The suddenness with which the storm descended upon the various communities prevented many people from taking advantage of storm shelters and basements. It will long be remembered as one of the Panhandle's most disastrous.

Detroit: Although they admitted they thought he was guilty, a 12-woman jury found Anthony Man-kowski innocent of shooting his wife because they "felt sorry for him."

Philadelphia: Arriving at a hospital with a fractured arm, Mrs. Margaret Kallan said she had been attacked and knocked down by two roosters.

Menlo Park, Cal: Proud and beaming, Sammy Yates, 13, passed out all-day suckers to his eighth grade classmates, announcing, "I'm a brother."

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hill of Amarillo were guests during the week end in the parental W. H. Harden home.

Mrs. Cecil Simms and daughter, Alice, spent the week end visiting in the home of Mrs. Simms' mother, in Lubbock.

Mrs. J. E. Stokes and daughter, Jackie Zue, spent the week end in Wellington with Mr. Stokes, who recently bought a cafe in that city.

Mrs. D. A. Prichard and little son, Preston Dale, have returned from Brownfield where Preston Dale recently underwent an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Oberst, Jr., and children have returned from Cincinnati where they spent two weeks in the home of Dr. Fred Oberst.

Betty Pugh, Bruce Baumann and J. C. Jones were recent visitors with relatives in Perryton.

George Watson and Odell Davis were visitors in Clarendon recently.

Jane Coddie, Mary Donaldson and Juanita Williams visited with friends and relatives in Groom recently.

Mrs. Faye Cannedy, Mrs. C. O. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Cooper and Charles were visitors Sunday in McLean.

Miss Claudine Foster of Amarillo spent the week end here visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Foster.

Mrs. W. A. Hancock of this city visited in Tulsa for several days with her son, O. W. Hancock and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Strain and Bill Strain of Amarillo were in Pampa Sunday where they attended the Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show.

Mrs. Lena Hicks left this week to spend a month visiting with a son in Tennessee.

Mrs. Joe Lange of Happy is visiting this week in the home of Mrs. R. N. Lindsey.

Nuptial Vows at Tucumcari Unite Mattie Houpt, Lee Roy Moreland

Nuptial vows were exchanged in the First Christian Church in Tucumcari, N. M., Easter Sunday at 2:30 p. m. to unite Miss Mattie Louise Houpt, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Houpt, of that city, and Lee Roy Moreland, of Canyon, son of Mrs. Mildred L. Moreland, of Borger.

The Rev. Millard Murphey, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in that city, officiated as the couple and their attendants stood before a background arranged with two branched candelabra, containing seven candles each, which were flanked with white wedding baskets of pink and white stock, snapdragons and Easter lilies. A white aisle cloth was provided for the bridal party.

Pre-nuptial music included "Clair de Lune," Debussy, played by Miss Barbara Stallard. A vocal solo, "Because," D'Harlot, was sung by Mrs. Avert Lair, sorority sister of the bride, from Canyon, accompanied by Miss Stallard.

Traditional wedding marches were used, with Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the processional, and "The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin" by Wagner, for the recessional.

Miss Margaret Lair of this city, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of pink satin and carried a shower bouquet of pink and white sweet peas with net and satin streamers.

Miss Wanda Moreland, sister of the bridegroom, was attired in a pink gown and wore a corsage of pink carnations. She presided at the bride's guest book.

Gordon Lynn Dickerson served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Jack Hanna and Henry Stone, who lighted the candles preceding the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Otis Houpt, wore a chantilly lace and ivory satin gown, styled with sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves, snug fitting lace bodice, which was fastened at the back with fifty tiny satin buttons, and had a full skirt of ivory satin, falling into a graceful train. Her finger tip veil of illusion cascaded from a coronet of seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was of white calla lilies, white rose buds and lilies of the valley, fashioned with white satin streamers knotted and tied with stephanotis.

She observed the custom of brides by wearing a borrowed veil, a new platinum bracelet set with rhinestones, the gift of the bridegroom, and embroidered in blue in the seam of her gown were the names of the couple and the date and place of the wedding. Something old was her mother's pearls. In her shoe, she had a half pence and a penny for luck.

The bride's mother wore a frock of black faille with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses, and Mrs. Moreland wore a gray suit with rose accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

After the double ring ceremony a reception was held for members of the wedding party in the home of the bride's parents.

Later the couple left for a motor trip to an unannounced destination. For traveling, the bride chose a gray gabardine suit with white crepe blouse, red kid slippers, red gloves, purse and hat. Her shoulder bouquet was of white rosebuds.

The bride, a graduate of Tucumcari high school, is enrolled as a junior at West Texas State. She is

The bridegroom was graduated from Canyon high school and is also a student at West Texas State. He served with the navy for thirty-three months, and is a sophomore at the college. He is a pledge to Epsilon Beta fraternity, and is a part time employee at the Canyon post office.

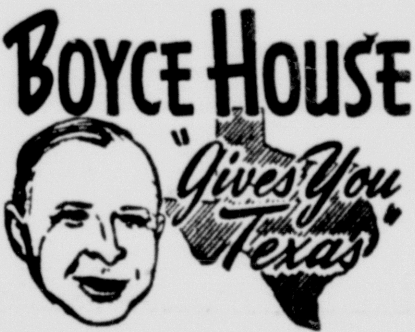

Both Mr. and Mrs. Moreland plan to continue their school work in the college. They will be at home in Canyon.

Among those present for the wedding and reception were: Mrs. Mildred L. Moreland, daughter, Wanda, and son, Billy, of Borger; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lair, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Plans were completed for the council bake sale, and the annual club picnic which was held on Easter Sunday.

The club adjourned after a social hour, and will meet in the home of Mrs. Wayne Porter, Wednesday, April 16, at 2:30 p. m.

Refreshments of punch, cake and sandwiches were served to the following members and guests: Mrs. Louis Tuck, Mrs. John Bryan, Mrs. Roy Metcalf, Mrs. Ferrell Abbott, Mrs. Lyle Bonner, Mrs. Jennings, Mrs. Ed Bourn, Mrs. B. Mrs. Temple Jarnigan was hostess when she entertained members of the Highland Home Demonstration club, April 2, in her home.

Mrs. M. L. Cribbs presented a demonstration on textile painting.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to the following club members: Mrs. Cribbs, Mrs. A. N. Green, Mrs. L. E. Mason, Mrs. Kenneth Broadus, Mrs. L. J. Fulton, Mrs. Floyd Mitchell and Mrs. Clyde Jones.

folks think nothing of a drive like that.

Your columnist visited Hot Springs recently—and it was a most enjoyable experience. All activities seem to center on the main street because the city is in two sections which are connected only by that one thoroughfare, so closely do the mountains press at the midway point.

And such a main street! On one side is bathhouse row, palaces of stone in a setting of trees and velvety lawns, and in the distance the vast structure which is the Arlington Hotel; on the other side of the street, shops with displays of laces, jewelry and curios. People from every state in the Union saunter in a leisurely manner along the sidewalk. Incidentally, Texas ranks second for out-of-state visitors, Illinois being first.

There are sight-seeing buses drawn up at the curb, and there is a shooting gallery on that main street—the targets are against the side of a mountain. One spot was blasted out of solid rock to make room for a filling station and nearby is a bus stop which is only a few paces from a ledge of rock under which one can take refuge from rain.

Over yonder is an ancient two-seated carriage, the kind the governor used to ride in when there was a parade when you were a boy; and the old driver is wearing a high hat. Honeymooners go for a drive in the quaint vehicle, and of course have their picture taken. From somewhere there comes the sound of music—and you look through a fringe of trees and see, in a park bandstand, an Army band.

Hot springs has facilities for 31,000 visitors, declares Miss Alta Smith, of the Chamber of Commerce, who for years has ably publicized the city's many attractions. But the races were in progress and finding accommodations for the wife, her mother and myself was a problem—which Miss Smith solved by appealing to a former Texan, Vance Bryan, who used to run a big trucking business out of Kilgore and is now owner of the Jack Tar Court Hotel, favorite stopping place for famous athletes, big business men and movie stars—the most luxurious quarters I've ever seen.

To sum up the swirl of impressions of the three days: Hot Springs seems a gigantic fair, colorful fiesta, a perpetual holiday where everyone is having a great time.

While Labor and Industry are hopeful that another wave of strikes can be averted, the real answer lies in prices. UAW's Walter Reuther has told General Motors that the auto workers would sharply scale down their wage demands if general average prices dropped 18%.

Other summer insects had better get chummy with a spelling bee. A newly developed insecticide will wallop the little imps with hexachlorocyclohexane.

Announcement

Due to a complaint filed with the Post Office Department that because of my connection with the post office I had an "unfair advantage" as a competitor in the insurance business, I have been ordered by the department to discontinue as a member of the Cole & Davis Insurance Agency. Arrangements are being completed for my retirement at once. The Levi W. Cole Insurance Agency will continue at the same location. I regret that it is necessary for this change as I have enjoyed your fine support and confidence. Rodeo Saturday at West Texas State

Stars To Stage Two Exhibitions

Spectators Will Pay Dollar To See Show; Begin at 2:30, 7:30

Coming off a brain-racking, back-aching, seemingly endless road of preparation, the thing that started out as plans but ended up a well-rounded program, is the annual T-Anchor rodeo at West Texas on April 19.

All campus cowboys are donning their "go west-ern" garb to help the Aggie Club carry out the "my-legs-are-bowed-too" theme for the fracas.

Yvonne Scott Little won the distinction of rodeo queen by popular vote of the Aggie Club members. She will reign over both shows of the day with four other young ladies as attendants.

Livery Space

Horses are now being stabled by the Aggie Club and there is plenty of room for more.

All members of the club will have tickets and entrance blanks. There are approximately ten entries in each event so far but contestant fees will be taken up to 10 o'clock on the morning of the show. The club members have the rules for the rodeo for those contestants who desire them.

Corral and chute construction is underway and should be completed sometime this week.

Indians from the "Big Feet" tribe under chief "Best-foot-forward" are expected to participate in view of furnishing spectators additional entertainment.

Parade at 11

A parade through town, consisting of the Tucumcari sheriff's posse, the Range Riders, all contestants, the queen and the West Texas band is scheduled for 11 o'clock in the morning. Following is the first show of the rodeo, beginning at 2:30 p. m. and the second at 7:30 p. m.

Maddox Leather Goods of Amarillo have agreed to furnish the grand prize for the best all-around cowboy.

Oklahoma City: The Oklahoma legislature authorizes the State Tax Commission to collect a 2% sales tax from bootleggers on whiskey sales in dry Oklahoma. To get around the difficulty of collecting the levy, law-makers put the bootleggers "on their honor" to report sales.

New Rochelle, N. Y.: To trap burglars, Robert L. Green, 61, collected clubs and blackjacks, posted signs, and rigged an intricate shotgun booby trap to the front door with pulleys, strings and weights; came home late, set off the booby trap, killed himself.

Protection for Argentine films is to mean more production of motion pictures in Argentina and fewer imported pictures. New regulations require Argentine films for at least one week in each two month period in first run houses seating more than 2,500. Smaller theaters must show them two weeks out of each five months.

Seemingly at home on the range — or the West Texas equivalent of it — are the four wranglers pictured in the top group. Cowboys preparing for the big rodeo Saturday are: Herschel Lewis, Joe Bill Little, Clyde Gordon and Billy Caferton. Foreman of the proceedings is Chief Red Weatherly, president of the Ag Club sponsoring the show; he and his mount are shown above. Elected by the Aggies to serve as their queen during the day's festivities, Yvonne Scott Little of Amarillo is the winsome cowgirl in the lower right. New to WT this semester, "Scotty" is a sophomore who attended Tech last year. During her high school days in Amarillo, she was class favorite and yell-leader. (Cut courtesy Amarillo Globe-News).

St. Louis: A new high in labor relations was established when boiler-works owner Elmer Nooter installed a three-chair "worry room" for troubled employees. No telephone calls or conversation are permitted.

Mount Carmel, Ill.: Jailed by their parents for playing hockey, three boys, aged 8, 9, and 10, did trapeze stunts on the bars, bellowed for candy and comic books, sang "Open the Door, Richard," until jailers gave up and released them.

Radio Star Will Salute West Texas State Rodeo Thursday Eve

Music-loving Westerners of West Texas State will hitch their horses to a tuning bar, hang their Stetsons on a treble-clef, latch their car to the range radio and do-si-do their favorite girl Thursday night at 6 o'clock when Jo Stafford, star of the Chesterfield Supper Club, will start officially the T-Anchor Stampede by saluting West Texas State with the song voted the students' favorite in a recent campus poll.

Miss Stafford, singing idol of both metropolitan and provincial jive-connoisseurs, drawled in a recent telegram to officials of The Prairie — "Name your song partner and I'll try to aim it at you all come rodeo time" — and rodeo time is here.

After completing tabulation in the recent song-contest, the winning tune was wired to Hollywood but not until program time will students know which lyric was ahead of the rest on this Western range.

It can be revealed that some 50 songs were named in the voting but the winner received a majority of almost 300 ballots. Numerous other songs received good backing but failed to come close to the leader.

So again the reminder for Thursday evening is for cowpokes to dust-off their togs, jingle their spurs, brew up a jag o' java, dial KGNC at 6 o'clock and sit back and relax. Yea, man, just relax!

Hitler Gambled On British Help

Nazi Documents Disclose He Expected England To Remain Neutral.

WASHINGTON. — Recently captured Nazi documents reveal that Hitler gambled right up to the deadline that Britain would remain neutral or fight on Germany's side. As late as September 1, 1939—the day Hitler's army invaded Poland—the fuhrer insisted that Britain would not enter the war. Two days later Britain and France were fighting Germany.

As a result, Germany never was prepared for a naval war and the "war was in one sense lost before it began," said one of the Nazi documents made public by the navy.

At one time—the documents didn't say when—Hitler even was "striving for a political agreement with England so he could concentrate on Russia," which he considered "the arch enemy of Germany and Europe."

These and other disclosures were contained in three sets of captured documents.

One of the most revealing of them was written by Grand Adm. Doenitz, last commander of the Nazi navy and the man who became the fuhrer briefly after Hitler's reported suicide in the last days of the war.

Raged Over Navy.
The documents also revealed that Hitler, furious because his surface ships refused to fight, ordered his battleships and cruisers scrapped in 1934 and "tricked the Allies with a skeleton surface fleet of destroyers from then until the end of the war. German admirals, however, were able to save their big warships from the junk heap by one pretext or another.

German plans to invade England were cooked up by Hitler as a ruse for hiding his real plan—the invasion of Russia.

Hitler expected to conquer Russia in a few months.

Germany entered the war with only 48 submarines.

When the United States entered the war December 11, 1941, the Germans were able to send only six U-boats to American waters for immediate operation.

The Germans were prefabricating submarines in scattered areas over the Reich in an attempt to escape heavy Allied bombings.

Ordered to Scrap Heap.
Hitler's order to scrap all surface units of the Nazi fleet larger than destroyers was issued January 1, 1943, after the Nazi admirals failed to deliver a promised great naval victory.

"This means the passing of the high seas fleet," Hitler raged. "It is my irrevocable decision to do away with these useless ships."

He ordered scrap from the ships used to make tanks and guns for his land armies.

Only one German battleship ventured out into the high seas after the scrapping order—the ill-fated Scharnhorst, which steamed into a British trap off the northern coast of Norway and was sunk.

Doenitz disclosed Hitler's false hope that England would remain neutral or fight on Germany's side in discussing the unpreparedness of the Nazi navy.

He attributed this unpreparedness "to the fact that the German armed forces were designed for continental war, with England either neutral or on the side of Germany."

Government Has Surplus for 7 Months; Won't Last Long

WASHINGTON. — The government closed its books on the seventh month of its current fiscal year with a surplus of $685,498,000. Expenditures through January 31 were 21 billion 600 million dollars and receipts were 22 billion 285 millions.

Budget estimates were that expenditures for the entire fiscal year, which ends next June 30, would be 42 billion 500 millions, and receipts 40 billion 200 millions.

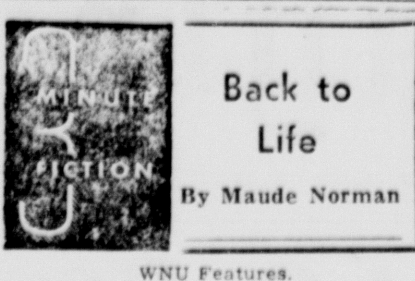

The present surplus in the face of an anticipated deficit of 2 billion 300 millions for the entire fiscal year is largely explained, officials said, by the fact that many heavy cost items have yet to fall due.

Electrical Works in Berlin Taken Over by the British

BERLIN. — The British military government has taken over the vast Siemens electrical concern in Berlin, it was announced here, under provisions of an occupation law which deals with the blocking and control of property of interest to the United Nations. When it closed down late in 1946 because of lack of fuel the concern had 18,000 workers.

Salvage Expert Hints A-Bomb Never Sank the Prinz Eugen

HONOLULU. — A navy salvage expert said the German heavy cruiser Prinz Eugen, which sank long after its atomic bombing in the Bikini tests last summer, may have been scuttled accidentally by someone who opened a seacock without knowing what he was doing. A report is being prepared at Kwajalein but the cause of the sinking has not been announced by navy officials in charge.

MARY STARR finished putting the dishes away, took off her apron and went out to the front porch. She glanced anxiously toward where the bright tip of her husband's cigarette showed in the darkness.

"It gets dark earlier now, doesn't it," she remarked.

She tried again. "Anything interesting happen today?"

James threw his cigarette over the railing. "Oh, sure, I had a very interesting day," he mocked. "As usual I took the 7:35 to town. I sold, or tried to sell suits. I took the 6:30 home as I have for the last six years."

"Perhaps if you started writing again you might sell something," she ventured.

"Write," he snorted. "I'm so tired at night I don't have an idea in my head. I do the same thing day in and day out, world without end, amen, and you think I can write. Write about what!"

The next morning Mary raced through her work, washed and dressed the baby, settled three-year-old Shirley in the sand-box to play, then got out her typewriter.

Two days later James received a letter, a delicately scented missive that Mary handed to him without a word.

"Dear Mr. Starr," the letter began. "About seven years ago I was confronted with a serious problem that a story of yours, 'Stella's Solution,' helped me to solve successfully. I should have written and thanked you then, only that I knew how men in your position are deluged with letters.

Sincerely,
Justine Owen."

James did not show the letter to Mary and she asked no questions. No more letters came to the house.

He went into the house, slamming the door.

although she knew he had answered. He began writing every evening, re-typing and sometimes rewriting the stories he had written and laid aside. Shortly after sending out his first story a check came for $25, not much, but enough to encourage him.

Mary rejoiced at the change in him, especially after he sold two more stories, until one day, going through the pockets of a suit she was sending to the cleaners, she found a note.

"DARLING! There I have said it and say it again. Darling! I love you. Does that seem strange? But why should it? Your letters, carefully worded though they are, tell me you love me too. Name a place where I can meet you. Your post office address makes you seem so far away.

"You mentioned responsibilities. In all this world there are only two things that matter. You, and the fact that I love you and will love you forever. You are my inspiration.

Hopefully,
James."

James found Mary unusually silent that evening. Although he tried to interest her in the day's happenings, she busied herself feeding the children and barely answered him.

"I sold another story," he said. "Looks like I can write after all."

"That's nice," she answered briefly, trying to pass him.

"Aren't you glad?" "Of course I am." "Then what's the matter?"

Mary handed him the note she had found in his pocket. "I wasn't snooping," she said. "I found this when I emptied the pockets of your grey suit when I sent it to the cleaners."

James took the note. "I was hoping you would find it pretty soon," he grinned.

"WHAT!"

"I hope you don't think I'm as dense as I appeared to be. Oh, at first I fell for it. Long enough to sell a story and get a little self-confidence. Then I became curious to see the lady who wrote such lovely letters. A trip or two to the post office soon showed me she was someone I knew very well indeed."

"And you don't think I'm silly, do you? I only wanted to give you a little romantic interest. I thought it would help you."

"It certainly did help me, Silly. After you dragged me out of a black pit of self-pity and despair! I meant every word I wrote," he kissed her gently. "You really are my inspiration."

Behind the demonstrations by Ruhr miners is a problem for the Allies of how to distribute food to occupied countries. U. S. officials say privately that American authorities have supplied more than enough food to meet the needs of the Ruhr. Some of them blame the British for inadequate administration, but the primary cause of trouble is that the distribution system is not good enough to guarantee that everybody gets a fair share of available food.

Thousands of Russian farm families have been driven out of the Ukraine by the severity of drought conditions there. Railroad stations in Moscow are jammed with families deserting the Ukraine and moving eastward to resettle beyond the Urals.

Quill and Scroll Pledges Undergo Varied Ordeals and Punishments

Initiate's Costumes Are Comic Character Togs

Cold, slimy, raw eggs—

This delectable substance was served to the six journalism students as a climax to the initiation, which they had to undergo, Friday, April 11, in order to become members of the International Honor Society of Quill and Scroll.

These students' trials and tribulations began when they came to school Friday morning, each dressed as a funny paper character. Jean Hill was "Little Lulu," with the help of Martha Wilson, who portrayed "Nancy," scrubbed the water fountains the first period. They, with the help of Robert Fisher, "Henry," sang "Maizy Doats" and "Three Blind Mice," standing on the checking counter in the library.

Pledges Work

These two pledges were forced to march single file down the hall and walk down the stairs backwards.

Bill Davis, "Lone Ranger," kept order in Mrs. Kirkland's chemistry class the last few minutes before the bell. No, he didn't have to use his pop gun.

The sentence, "We will be good to Mrs. Simms," was written on the black board in her room fifteen times by Guy Brant, who portrayed "Popeye." To this statement, he signed the names of the students in the English IV class.

On bended knee, Louise Blewett dressed as "Olive Oyl," sang "Maizy Doats" to Popeye.

"Lone Ranger" (Bill Davis), decorated Louise Blewett's face with lipstick, rouge, eyebrow pencil, and powder. During the day, Bill made 35c shining shoes—and boots.

Jobs, which the students did for the school were: polishing the large mirror in the hall, the two trophy cases and the piano.

Present Assembly

During the assembly, the roll call was answered by each pledge saying a nursery rhyme. Jean Hill gave several imitations and the audience tried to guess which teacher was imitated. Orders from the "Sears Roebuck Catalog," which were collected by Louise Blewett during the day, were read by her. The names of various people's favorite rose were read by Martha Wilson.

Bill Davis rode about the stage on his broomstick and sang a prat of "Uncle Remus." Robert Fisher imitated a measuring worm. Eggs were the final course.

Old Members

Quill and Scroll members which took part in initiating the six were last year's members: Betty Ann Miller, Joan Morton, Frances Gooch, Valeta Haines, and Geraldine Small.

Othella Pruitt, a future Quill and Scroll member, was absent April 11. She will be initiated some other time.

HALL TROUBLE

Say, students, have we forgotten the little talk our superintendent gave us in assembly at the beginning of the year?

In all fairness do you think we are cooperating with him and the faculty?

Who loves a dirty wall? Not you or I! How hard have we tried to keep them clean? The floor is no place for scrap paper and mud carelessly brought in by many feet.

What if trains stood on tracks for indefinite lengths of time? Should we have wrecks, . . . well yes, and yes! So, why visit and congest traffic in the halls before school.

Good citizens look for opportunities to make the school better in every way.

Boys Will Attend Meet in Lubbock

Lubbock will be host to surrounding towns at the annual Regional Track, Field and Tennis Meet to be held Saturday, April 19, provided the weather permits.

Those who placed first, second or third in the District Meet, which was held here April 5, are eligible to attend. The following are eligible to represent CHS: Charles Wright in 100 yard dash, 880 run and the high jump; Billy Abbott in pole vaulting; James Guthrie in 220 dash; James Inman in 440 run; Clifford Burtz in low hurdles; Gerald McDuff in mile run; Guthrie, Burtz, Lee Bailey, and Meade Michael in 440 relay; and Abbott, Inman, Michael and Wright in the mile relay.

Frances Gooch and Betty Ann Miller were unopposed in the girls' tennis doubles as was Lorilla Devin in the singles. These girls will automatically get to represent the district in the meet.

It is undecided just yet who will go to Regional with Coach R. D. Wheelock.

Graders Present Spring Pageant

"Sourwood Mountain," an American frolic based on fiddle tunes and dances from the mountains of Albemarle County, Virginia, was given Friday afternoon at two o'clock in the grade gym and at 11:00 o'clock Friday morning to the high school students.

The story deals with the feud between the Adams and Jackson families; and how this was settled for everyone.

Cast

The cast of characters were: Caller Tom, caller for frolic, Alan Hawkins; Uncle Jim, a former fiddler, Cloyd Adams; Aunt Glory, his wife, Doris Jennings; Bill Jackson, a boy from the next valley, Ed Harrell; Susie Adams, whose family is feuding with Jacksons, Peggy Bonds; and Susie's brothers: Sam Adams, Teddy Lowe; Joe Adams, J. T. Maddox; and Frank Adams, Norman Tuck.

Other boys and girls at the frolic were: Jeff Gray, James Head; Jimmy McCann, Jerry Martin; Bob Cole, Jerry Owens; Dorothy Neblett, Barbara Ann; Jo Ann Mickey, Emmy Lou; Barbara Glanton, Sally, and Elaine Cundiff, Nancy.

The boys and girls of the fifth and the sixth grade furnished the choruses, and the boys of the sixth grade played some tonette numbers.

Sophomore Parents Present Formal Dance At Cousins'

Highlight of last week's CHS activities was the Sophomore's formal dance held at Cousins Hall, Thursday night, April 10.

Two sets of old fashioned square dancing was participated in with Mr. Lill calling. The remainder of the evening was given over to modern ball room steps.

Those present were as follows: Approximately twenty-five sophomores, Miss Grace Aaron, the sponsor, Mrs. W. L. Avent, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Forester, Mrs. John Jennings, Mrs. C. O. Elkins, Mrs. Bernie Slack, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hickman, and Mrs. Walter Graham, room mothers, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lill, the classes only guests.

Refreshments consisted of punch and cookies.

Mrs. Cecil Simms Entertains PTA Study Group Members

Meeting in the home of Mrs. Cecil Simms, April 10, the study group of the Canyon PTA made brief addresses on the following: "The Teacher That Has Helped Me Most," Mrs. J. D. Barker; "Making a Better Understanding Between Parent, Teacher, and Pupil," Mrs. A. K. Goodman; "Our Concern with German Schools," Mrs. J. D. Bowen; "G. I. Teachers of German Children," Mrs. W. E. Miller; "Legislation and Education," Mrs. John Davis.

They were then served refreshments and had a social hour. This is the last PTA meeting of the study group for this school year.

Brrrrrrr—was this week a wet one and your old and dear friend (no remarks please!) stood by. Yes, you guessed it, "Old Cal," didn't rack up much gossip! I don't think but we'll see.

Don't these steadies ever get tired of each other was a question asked last Thursday. Well, evidently they don't, because they even sat together at the play "Little Women" last Thursday afternoon, and to top that off, they clung together on the busses coming and going to the play!

Juanita Avent really gets around doesn't she? How did you enjoy Sammy Malone's company Saturday night, Juanita?

Hummmm, these triangles again. First Richmond Hales and now Walton Byrd! Mary Elizabeth Jennings fits in the other part!

Don't you just hate fever blisters, Gerald McDuff? (especially when they're on Suzanne Stephenson.)

Joanna Haines, Albert Craig, Bobby Jean Ford and Bruce Winn seemed to be enjoying themselves Saturday night in the show.

Frank and Marion, why have you been so cool towards each other lately?

Flash! Charles Wright was escorting Bette Brown around Sunday night. Also James Inman was with Joan Byars. Heavens, everything is getting confusing!

Why the sad look, Ava Dooley? Could it be because Harold Martin was seen with Katie Furlow Friday night? However a little birdie told me that Carroll Wilson was growing fond of you, Ava.

Bill Davis always wants play practice to end in a hurry so he can take Dorothy Gafford home! Wonder why! (At least he did one night).

Your friend Cal has been wondering what Jerre Inman and Mable Graham find to talk about every morning in the hall. Won't someone please tell me?

Well, boys, it looks as if you'll have to mark Joan Hicks out of your address book because it seems she is going steady with Blake Zachry.

CHS Team Cops Third at Show

Burtz, Inman, Davis Are Entrants in Competition

Out of 17 teams entered in the twentieth annual Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show, Canyon won third with 738 points compared to 749 for the first place Muleshoe team and 740 for Sweetwater's second place team. The perfect score was 900.

Canyon High's team was composed of James Inman, Donald Davis and Clifford Burtz. Alternates were James Bible and Jimmie Dietz. In spite of not being on the team, Bible was fourth high point man in the contest. Davis was ninth high point.

Four classes of cattle were judged, two of Jerseys and two of Holsteins. Reasons had to be given for the way in which the cattle were judged. Davis won third in Jersey judging; Burtz fourth and Bible fifth. For winning third and fourth, the boys were given one dollar each. The team, as a whole won second in this and were presented with two dollars and a half in prize money. Also for placing third in the contest, the local chapter won two dollars and a half.

Jones Hales showed his Holstein heifers and won all first places in the junior calf division. Richmond Hales showed the only two senior yearling Holstein heifers and therefore won the first two places. He also showed the Grand Champion Holstein club heifer.

In the group of four club heifers, Randall County won first.

Members of the Student-Faculty Congress collected $86.00 last Monday, April 14, for the tornado stricken cities of Higgins and Glazier, Texas and Woodward, Oklahoma. More students were to bring their contributions Tuesday.

Sanders Displays Various Abilities

Shop work and Mechanical Drawing in CHS are taught by Mr. Milton Sanders, a former graduate of Canyon High, and one of its best boosters.

In addition to being the teacher longest in service on the CHS roster, Mr. Sanders, when the occasion arises, answers the call to serve as its principal.

Approximately 100 boys are registered in his classes, and are learning to operate the intricate machinery of the shop, or are studying the technique of drawing by a definite scale or plan.

Each boy finishes several pieces of furniture during his class periods; such as, towel racks, door props, and foot stools. Some larger pieces have been turned out; as, book cases, end-tables, and cedar chests. "I think we are going to be able to get good materials for our shop work from now on, which should be quite encouraging to the boys," states Mr. Sanders, "but our students, as a rule, have turned out creditable products even from inferior materials that had to be used during the war period."

Because of severe weather Saturday, March 12, the Future Homemakers were forced to postpone the hobo clean-up day which was announced last week. Another date has not yet been arranged.

Since the British announced their decision to quit India, there has been a sharp increase in the number

Speech Class Has Plans for Plays

Instead of memorizing "Rules for Drama," the speech class is learning by doing.

The class was divided into six groups under the following captains: Gracie Boyd, heading this group, Jaunita Avent, Wayne Kelso, Janey Forester, and Peggy La Loge; Helen Spencer, a captain; Martha Jean Avent, James Rigbsy, Dana Rice, and Muriel Fay Cope; Dorothy Gafford, captain; Wilbert Long, Ramona Jean Simon, Faye Kenney, and Joanna Haines; June Long, captain; Zonelle Gregg, Conley Campbell, Marsette Wilson, and Mary Ruth Devin; Odessa Scruggs, captain; Betty Ann Miller, Bobby Jean Ford, Carrol Wilson, and Peggy Jean Moore; Joan Hicks, captain; Claudine Beavers, Dwight Moore, Sue Jennings, and Harry Reeves.

Each group is to give a program for the speech class. Joan Hicks and her group presented an original one act play entitled "A CHS Faculty Meeting." Helen Spencer's group gave the one act play, "May I Have This Dance?"

Each group chose and worked up its own material, submitting its choice to Mrs. J. R. Sharp.

The productions of the other groups are to be given during the next two weeks.

Junior Classmeeting Furthers Junior-Senior Banquet Plans

Wednesday, April 9, the juniors met to further plans for the Junior-Senior Banquet. The date was set as May 16, and after Rita Gunter, Betty Jane Hales, and Ruth Lill presented banquet themes, the class decided on their theme.

Mrs. Knott announced that the junior pins had arrived and were ready for distribution. They are rectangular solid gold centered with a black crest with a C raised in gold. A tiny gold chain leads down to the guard, which has the numbers, '48, on it. These pins cost around eight dollars.

Algebra II Students Are Visitors in Knott Home

Two carloads of Algebra II students made the annual trip to the home of Mrs. A. K. Knott, taking leave from their third period class, last Monday morning.

After arriving at the house, they were served cokes and cherrios. They were then shown through the home. Mrs. Knott exhibited several odd lamps, one of which was made of strips from tin cans by a prisoner of war in the Hereford camp.

"Mrs. Knott has a beautiful home, and we had lots of fun visiting with her," state the members of the group.

Athletes Receive New Equipment

Coach Wheelock States, '1947 Prospects Good'

Signing up for spring football training, forty-two boys were issued equipment Wednesday, April 9. Training will continue through Friday, May 9. Fifteen of these boys were not out last year, most of them being eighth graders.

The team will suffer the loss of seniors Charles Wright, fullback; Billy Abbott, quarterback; James Guthrie, end; and Cordell Mahler, end. These four have been invaluable to the Eagles in years past.

The school has received much new equipment including new balls and practice pants. 30 new plain white rayon game jerseys with purple letters have been received for next year. The team is still lacking in headgear, but additional ones have been ordered, as have soulder pads.

Those coming out this year are: Austell Burrus, Billy Cleavinger, Walton Byrd, Jimmy Lindsey, James Bible, Dick Barrett, Carol Dickerson, Jerre Inman, Conley Campbell, Benny Woods, Wayne Davis, Marvin Fite, Troy Burrus, Dennis Burrus, Donald Davis, Harry Reeves, Bruce Wilbanks, Claude Money, Tommy Gooch, Stanley Schaeffer, Golden Currie, Clifford Burtz, James Inman, Bruce Winn, Jerry Harding, Norris Root, Bryce Slack, Lloyd Lindsey, Paige Carruth, Richard Walters, Wayne Prichard, Lee Bailey, Gerald McDuff, Meade Michael, Joe Abbott, Robert McCendon, Billy Joe McCarter, Landon Barrett, Garland Butler, L. G. Campbell, Jimmy Wooten and Richmond Payne.

Coach R. D. Wheelock states, "This is the largest and best equipped group we have had in the last two years. I hope all of them will stay."

Frances Gooch Is Canyon Nominee

Frances Gooch of CHS has qualified for the first scholarship of $50 in the Sweetbrier contest for high school seniors and teachers.

During the first three months any senior or teacher's name could be put down and each dollar of merchandise purchased counted as one vote. The contest started in September and will continue through May.

Frances's name was the only senior submitted from this area and already has over 2,500 votes. If she reaches 5,000 votes, she will receive a $100 scholarship.

Reed Visits

The scholarship grows larger with the largest one of $1,000 a year for four years given to those who receive 18,000 votes or over.

Don Reed, the field representative, visited Frances at school last week encouraging her to notify her friends and work the next two months that she might receive a larger scholarship.

In the Amarillo district 15 seniors and 16 teachers have qualified for scholarships.

Community Behind

"I really do appreciate the votes I have already received and know that this community must have really been behind me or I couldn't have gone as far as I have. I hope to reach at least the second goal by the end of next month and want everyone to help me," says Frances.

CREATED FOR

Football Practice Recessed Until Mid-May Date

Coach Clark Jarnagin's Buffalo tracksters will resume full-scale workouts Thursday when spring football practice will recess until May 12.

Five members of the track team are laboring without a coach since official track workouts were dropped following the Fort Worth track meet to allow Jarnagin line coach for the Maroon, and several football players to concentrate on spring football training.

The West Texas thin-clads will be put through intensive work when track work is resumed. Looming high on the track horizon is the Thundering Herd's first triangular meet of the season April 26 with Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons. The squad will be in much better condition for this meet than they were for the Fort Worth duel earlier in the year.

Three of Jarnagin's sprinters will resume workouts with sore legs. They are footballers Lloyd Johnson, Wheeler; W. N. Reimers, Berger, and Cloyce Box of Gatesville.

Others due to resume workouts are Willis Hedges, Berl Pruitt and Ernest Kendrick.

The five non-football playing tracksters, Dwaine Lyons, Jack Word, Jim Wilson, Maurice Steen and Bobby Helm give Coach Jarnagin a scoring punch in the middle distance races and field events. They have been free to devote their time to track workouts and are certain to be ready to go the limit against the Red Raiders and Cowboys at Buffalo Stadium.

Lyons handles the shot put and discus chores, Word is the Buffs' pole vaulter, Steen holds down the broad jump and high jump event, and diminutive Jim Wilson of Claude is the Maroon's best in the quarter mile jaunt.

Jarnagin will take his track team to Abilene May 1 or 2 for a triangular meet with ACC and McMurry.

On May 9 and 10, the Buffs will be in Albuquerque for the annual running of the Border Conference track and field meet. The University of New Mexico is host to the event this year.

Week Observation of Public Health Nursing Week

The State of Texas is planning to celebrate national "Public Health Nursing Week" April 20 to 26, as proclaimed by President Harry S. Truman.

The purpose of the week, according to Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, will be (1) to recruit more public health nurses (2) to increase understanding of the fact that much needless sickness and suffering can be prevented or reduced by using public health nursing services (3) to encourage greater understanding of public health nursing as a service for everybody regardless of size of income (4) to encourage development of public health nursing services wherever needed (5) to increase citizen participation in public health nursing services.

From the beginning of this work more than thirty years ago, public health nurses have been concerned with the total health situation of the family including sickness, disease prevention, and health protection.

In setting aside April 20 to 26 as "Public Health Nursing Week" for America, health administrators and all other friends of nursing should exert their efforts toward the extension of public health nursing services, so that there will be enough qualified nurses to meet the needs of all the people, and thus help in maintaining a maximum health level throughout the nation.

President Truman's opening speech on U. S. aid to Greece and Turkey is expected to bring a rush of other countries to the U. S. Treasury. The Dutch have notified the State Department privately that they cannot settle affairs in Indonesia without financial and moral aid from the U. S. Iran is expected to ask for a loan to insulate the country against Russian intervention. Chances are she will not get the money. The U. S. feels Iran is pretty well off through her oil earnings.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall is convinced that communism is not in condition to take over China at the present time. The Secretary, drawing on his year of experience in that country, feels certain that the Chinese Communists are not strong enough to assume control of the entire nation and run it under a single government of their choosing.

The U. S. S. Missouri will not make a return voyage to the Mediterranean this spring, despite reports to the contrary. The Athens radio has broadcast that the big U. S. Navy vessel is expected to call at Greek ports soon, but such a visit is not in the plans of the Navy Department at Washington.

There is a possibility that Great Britain will have to reduce the amount of bread rations sometime this spring. The U. S. has promised to do her best to make up Britain's food deficiencies, but there may not be enough bread grains available in Britain to maintain present rations until the next harvest is collected.

The British will not ask for another U. S. loan next year, under present planning. The current credit is being drawn upon on a schedule that will keep a balance thru 1948. One reason is that British officials do not want to run the risk of getting loan negotiations tangled up in next year's presidential campaign in the U. S.

Pilots Blamed in Half Air Crashes

Not a Single War Flier Was Involved in Accidents.

WASHINGTON. — Pilots were blamed in about half of the commercial flying accidents last year, but the record fails to show any connection with the "hot" military plane jockey insofar as scheduled airlines are concerned.

Air Transport association, representing the certified air carriers, examined the histories of pilots in 14 serious crashes on their lines to see if war flying could have figured in the background.

The answer was that not a single flier had come up through the armed services. Only two had war records—one as an air transport command pilot and the other flying a military contract route for an airline—and both had previously worked as airline pilots.

The cause of accidents, 22 of which involved fatalities, was set out in analyses of 35 crashes by civil aeronautics board and civil aeronautics administration. Ten of the mishaps involved nonscheduled carriers. In 27 cases the planes were "washed out."

A summary of the investigation findings showed:
Twelve accidents occurred during approach or landing, eight were due to structural or power plant failure, six involved collision with mountains, five resulted from fire in flight and four were listed as miscellaneous.

Pilot error was given as the primary cause in 12 accidents, the secondary cause in four others and appeared as a possible factor in five more.

"Other personnel" were charged with major blame in one crash and secondary blame in another. Weather caused two accidents and contributed to another.

Power plant failure was blamed in 10 accidents, including three fires in flight.

The government agencies did not place the blame in some accidents, noting merely "below safe altitude," "wing struck ground" or "crashed in hilly terrain."

Sex Life of Oysters Profitable to State

PURDY, WASH. — One of the state's least known but most profitable branches of government is the state oyster laboratory.

There biologists study the sex life of oysters, drilling and migrating habits of drills (a type of marine snail which eats oysters and other shellfish), and the power of waste sulphite liquor from pulp mills to kill shellfish.

The laboratory is the source of information bulletins sent to 150 Pacific Northwest oyster growers. Last year the state collected more than $250,000 from sales of seedling oysters. Operating costs for the past two years were only $40,000.

Six Millions Repatriated; Biggest Feat in History

TOKYO. — Supreme headquarters reported that 6,443,628 persons in the Pacific were repatriated in 1946 and termed it one of the biggest mass transportation feats in history.

More than 5 million Japs were brought home, and 1 million Chinese, Koreans, Formosans and Ryukyuan were moved home from Japan.

About 82,000 Japs remain in Southeast Asia and 13,000 in the Netherlands East Indies, but headquarters expects them all to be returned this year.

Largest repatriation job remaining is that of shipping an estimated 1 million Japs from Russian-held areas. Approximately 67,000 already have been returned.

Long-Sought Army Private Phones Parents From Tokyo

LOUISVILLE. — An army private and former jockey who disappeared during the fighting in the Pacific in September, 1944, talked to his parents here by long distance telephone from Tokyo.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Berger, said their son, Pvt. James Berger, had not been heard from by either army authorities or themselves for two years and five months.

"Jimmy," as the ex-jockey was known around the race tracks, never was reported officially as missing, captured, wounded or killed.

The Berbers said Jimmy didn't explain his long disappearance. His only comment was, "I've got a lot to tell you when I get home."

New Compass Uses Electron Beam Substitute for Needle

NEW YORK. — A new kind of compass in which a beam of electrons substitutes for a needle, and which points west instead of north, was announced to the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at a recent meeting.

The device was made by the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company of Minneapolis.

The compass is about the size of a flashlight.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall is leaning heavily on the advice of Gen. Lucius D. Clay on all matters relating to Germany, both political and economic. Clay's departure from Moscow before the end of the Foreign Ministers' Conference did not mean a lessening of his influence, which appears to be much stronger than that of Robert D. Murphy, the economic adviser on German affairs.

Economic experts who studied

Trieste for the Big Four Foreign Ministers have recommended that the U. N. hold as many important meetings as possible in that city. The idea behind the recommendation is that international meetings will bring vitally needed business to the free state that the U. N. will set up at Trieste.

Boom in Divorces Sweeps U. S. in '46

Crack Up in War Marriages Is Held Responsible.

WASHINGTON. — A sampling of representative cities and counties across the nation showed most points reporting the highest number of divorces for 1946 in their history.

Harried divorce judges worked overtime settling the postwar problems of those who failed to recon-vert to peacetime matrimony. The judges themselves cited a variety of reasons for the record number of divorces, but the most commonly mentioned was "hasty G. I. marriages."

At Atlanta, middle-aged Judge Bond Almand said there were "too many marriages where a man and woman meet, get drunk and marry the same day." At Miami, Judge Miles Lewis said cases involving wife-beating had increased. He blamed many divorces on "too much money."

At Boston, State Representative Edmond J. Donlan (Dem.) filed a bill in the Massachusetts legislature to abolish divorces in the state.

In his inaugural address to the Rhode Island legislature, Gov. John O. Pastore cited an "alarming increase" in divorces and advocated abolition of "divorce by deposition."

The divorce mecca of Reno reported a total of 11,000 divorces in 1946, surpassing the previous record of 8,500 in 1945. The state as a whole reported a new record of 20,000 compared with 14,500 the previous year.

District Judge William McKnight of Reno said that "as far as I can see we'll have an even bigger total in 1947." District Judge Anthony Maestretti of Reno blamed "inflated wartime economy as well as the war itself."

Other factors cited by the divorce judges were the housing shortage and its cramped living quarters, relaxed public opinion on divorce, dwindling religious influence and inability of former soldiers to adjust to the routine of marriage.

District Judge Clayton Parks at Minneapolis predicted that four out of every five war marriages eventually would end in divorce.

Boy Born in Plane Given Pass Good for Lifetime

MIAMI, FLA.—Aaxico Vega, who started life 7,500 feet in the air will be able to spend the rest of his life riding in airplanes free of charge.

Young Aaxico, who was born in the air while en route to San Juan, Puerto Rico, from New York, and named by his parents for the airline—Aaxico—was issued a lifetime free pass to their unscheduled passenger.

The baby was delivered by Pilot Kenneth Stockman of Sacramento, Calif., assisted by Stewardess Eileen Haybaer of Benton Harbor, Mich., two hours before the plane was due to arrive at San Juan.

Berlin's School Enrollment Booms; Teaching Staff Short

BERLIN. — Despite a decrease of one million in the city's population, Berlin has a higher school enrollment than it had in 1938 and is attempting to handle it with less than half its prewar trained teaching staff.

The school enrollment in this city of 3,000,000 now totals 450,617 children and youths. The 1938 enrollment was 421,836. The breakdown shows 305,452 in the public primary schools; 80,236 in vocational schools; 42,901 in high schools; 15,609 in intermediate schools, and 6,329 in special schools.

The regular teaching staff has declined from approximately 14,000 to 6,162. One of the biggest factors in this decline has been denazification, which threw many teachers out of their jobs.

Smoking Can Give You Cold Feet, Physiologist Reports

KANSAS CITY. — Smoking may give you cold feet. And, says Dr. Grace M. Roth, physiologist at Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., that may lead to permanent foot trouble.

Dr. Roth passed out that word, backed by three years' research, at a University of Kansas hospitals' clinic for midwest physicians.

The physician tempered her lecture on cold feet by reporting that the same three years of research had disclosed a drink of bourbon or Scotch might be beneficial by sending your temperature up all the way down to your toes. The same goes for a good meal as a temporary foot warmer.

Truck Driver Is Warmer in Refrigerator Than Outside

PHILADELPHIA.—There's something warming about a refrigerator these cold, wintry days.

George McClain, milk truck driver trapped in the refrigerator of his vehicle when wind blew the door shut, says he would have preferred staying inside if there had been enough air to breathe.

The refrigerator's thermometer read 40 degrees above zero. Outside it was 14.

Members of the presidential mission who made an economic study of Greece cannot understand why the country didn't collapse months ago, so tangled are its business and Government affairs. These experts are unanimous in their belief that the U. S. literally must take over Greece and run it from top to bottom if the Truman policy is going to work.

The new Queen of Greece, Frederica, may turn out to be a real power in the country's Monarchy. She is an ardent feminist and eager to organize the women of Greece into an effective political force. Friends say that her personality is more forceful than that of her husband, Paul I.

Are you
line?
on a party

If you have a party-line telephone, here's a suggestion...

Party-line service is best when everyone on the line is thoughtful and courteous. You can get the most value from your party line by doing these simple things:

1. Keep your calls short and space them as much as possible. That will give the other fellow a chance to call, or be called.
2. Hang up quietly if the line is in use when you try to call. Wait awhile before calling again.
3. See that everyone in the family does his or her part at observing party-line telephone courtesy.
